

Hurricane Sandy left behind an estimated six million cubic yards of debris in NY. Nearly 95% has been removed.

This is enough debris to fill the equivalent of four Empire State buildings from top to bottom.